CHILDWISE January 2016

Time spent online 'overtakes TV' among youngsters

More than 2000 children aged 5-16 in schools across the UK complete the survey, on topics including their favourite apps and what they watch on YouTube.

The average time spent online is now 3 hours per day, compared with 2.1 hours watching television.

67% of young children own a tablet.

Children go online to watch videos, listen to music, play games and research their homework - and older children use it for social networking, particularly among girls.

YouTube is the dominant destination which is used every day by almost half of all five to 16-year-olds, to watch video clips, listen to music and use games-related material.

They particularly want to see "funny" content on YouTube, but about a third watch "how-to" videos, including how to play computer games.

Cyberbullying

Grooming and Phishing

Inappropriate
websites

Cyberbullying (and cyber-meanness)

What is Cyberbullying?

How and where can you be Cyberbullied?

STOP
cyberbullying

Cyberbullying - TOP TIPS

- Don't be afraid to ask questions
- Offer reassurance and support
- Keep the evidence
- Block the bullies
- Know where to go to report and for support

Grooming

What is online grooming?

What does an online friend mean to your child?

Is it the same for you?

Grooming via gaming

Does your child play online games?

Do they know who they're playing against?

Do you know who they're playing against?

Phishing and Blackmail

Phishing is the attempt to acquire sensitive information such as usernames, passwords, and money, by pretending to be trustworthy.

Fraudsters target your computer. They accuse you of committing a crime and try to extort money from you.

Grooming, phishing, blackmail - TOP TIPS

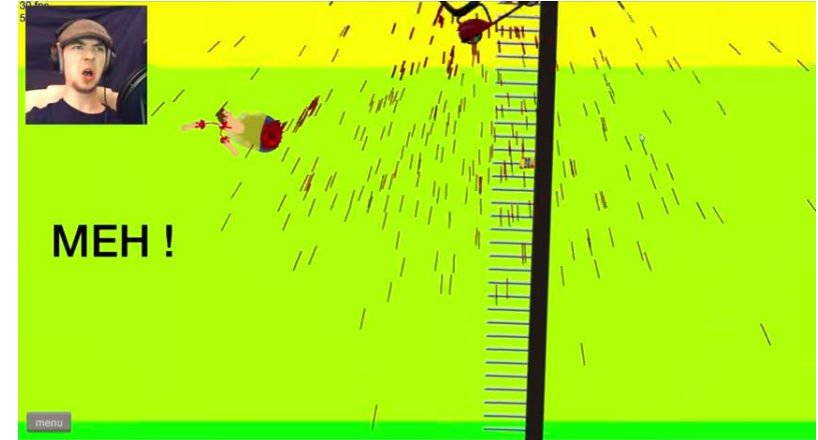

- Talk to your child about their online friends
- Talk to them about online grooming / phishing
- Let your child know that you are always there for support and you understand how easy it is for things to get out of control online
- Learn how to report any inappropriate contact made to your child online

Inappropriate Content

Games, Videos, Apps & Websites

- Pornography
- Violence
- Swearing
- Racial Hatred
- Promoting eating disorders, self harm
- Gambling

What does the word 'inappropriate' mean in your house?

Gaming

Descriptors shown on the back of the packaging indicate the main reasons why a game has received a particular age rating.

There are eight such descriptors: violence, bad language, fear, drugs, sexual, discrimination, gambling and online gameplay with other people.

Game contains depictions of, or materials which might encourage, discrimination

Game may be frightening or scary for young children

Games depicts nudity and/or sexual behaviour or sexual references

Online Game

Game contains bad language

Game refers to or contains references to drugs

Games that encourage or teach gambling

Game contains depictions of violence

Apps

Does your child use a tablet or phone?

Are all the apps age appropriate?

Have you checked their PEGI rating?

Parental Controls

It is possible to set controls on:

- Tablets
- Mobile phones
- Games Consoles
- Computers
- Laptops
- Smart TVs
- Routers

Set on all devices that link to the internet

Remember...

Blocking and filtering are not 100% accurate and not a substitute for open communication!

Parental Controls - TIPS

Set rules for use

- Limit time
- Choose where are they use the technology?
- Ban inappropriate games/YouTube channels

Control and Monitor

- Block games/sites/channels not age appropriate
- What are they playing/watching?
- Who are they playing with?

More than three-quarters of children aged 10 to 12 in the UK have social media accounts, even though they are below the age limit, a survey* for CBBC Newsround suggests.

Among under-13s, 78% were using at least one social media network, despite being below the age requirement.

Instagram was used by 41% of 10 to 12 year olds and the company said "keeping the community safe" online was its "number one priority. We require anyone on Instagram to be over the age of 13, and if anyone suspects accounts are run by under-13s, they should report them".

* Comres survey for Newsround, based on 1,200 young people aged between 10 and 18

Summary

- Make sure your child is happy to talk to you
- Set rules for their online use
- Set parental controls, (where possible)
- Know what they are doing
- Speak to them about their online presence
- Know how to report
